DETAILED ACTION

1. The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claims 24-29 have been renumbered 23-28, since there is no claim 23 filed in the amendment.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-10 and 16-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The instant independent claims 1 and 6 are still confusing as to what applicant regards as his/her invention. A reading of independent claim 1 fails to provide a clear picture of the invention since the structure claimed and the functions attributed to said structure is vague and indefinite. For instance, lines 11-12 suggest that "a storage part" records and stores the acoustic data, but later in the sentence it suggests the acoustic data is collected "via said sound reflecting element". It is questioned what structure "the reflecting element" or "the storage part" actually collects the acoustic data. Further in the claim, with respect to the claimed "sound source localization part" there is no antecedent language that suggests the "delay information" is superposed on the "acoustic data". Further, it is questioned what "part" is attributed to the "storage" and "sound source" (lines 11 and 13, respectively).

The method claim 6 fails for the same reasons as noted above with respect to claim 1.

Dependent claims 2-5, 7-10 and 16-27 are further rejected as indefinite since they depend upon indefinite claims.

In claim 28, it is vague and indefinite how the claimed "reflecting surface as an enveloping surface of a spheroid" is formed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 28, as best understood, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Afendykiw et al ('514) in view of Kobayashi et al ('019).

Afendykiw et al discloses a position location method (see col. 2, lines 11-25) which "forms" a spheroid reflecting surface and measures the delay between a reflected wave and a direct wave to thereby determine the position of an RF source.

The difference between claim 29 and the method disclosed by Afendykiw et al lies in the claim is directed to an acoustic system whereas Afendykiw et al is directed to an RF system. Specifically, Afendykiw et al locates an RF source and the instant claim locates an acoustic source.

Kobayashi et al teaches (col. 8, lines 39-58 and col. 10, lines 35-45) using reflected and direct acoustic waves to locate a sound source where the sound is reflected off a reflecting surface (5).

In view of the use of reflecting surfaces for determining sound source locations, as taught by Kobayashi et al, it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize the method disclosed by Afendykiw et al for locating a sound source.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 6 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
